

JAL Group Revises Domestic Flight Frequency for First Half of FY2012

TOKYO April 26, 2012: Japan Airlines (JAL) has decided on a revision in a part of its flight frequency plans for the first half of fiscal year 2012, the year ending March 31, 2013. The airline will discontinue the once-daily round-trip flight between Tokyo, Narita and Osaka's Kansai International Airport from July 2012.

Domestic Flight Frequency Decrease

Route	Details	Date Effective
Tokyo (Narita) = Osaka (Kansai)	Decrease from 1 daily round-trip flight to 0.	July 1, 2012 (Dep. Narita) July 2, 2012 (Dep. Kansai)

END