

JAL Group Revises Domestic Flight Frequency Plans for FY2014

TOKYO August 20, 2014: JAL Group (JAL) today announced revisions made to its domestic flight frequency plans for the remaining of fiscal year 2014. The airline implements its flight frequency plans according to the trend of customers' needs under current market condition.

JAL is continually striving to further improve customers' convenience in response to the change in business environment.

*The following schedules are subject to government approval.

1. Flight Frequency Increase

Route	Details	Date Effective
Haneda = Izumo	Increase from 5 to 6 daily round-trip flights	Oct. 26, 2014 ~ Mar. 28, 2015
Haneda = Kumamoto	Increase from 8 to 9 daily round-trip flights	Oct. 26, 2014 ~ Mar. 28, 2015

2. Flight Frequency Decrease

Route	Details	Date Effective
Fukuoka = Izumo	Decrease from 3 to 2 daily round-trip flights	Oct. 26, 2014 ~
Fukuoka = Matsuyama	Decrease from 6 to 5 daily round-trip flights	Oct. 26, 2014 ~
Fukuoka = Miyazaki	Decrease from 10 to 9 daily round-trip flights	Oct. 26, 2014 ~
Fukuoka = Amami-oshima	Decrease from 2 to 1 daily round-trip flights	Oct. 26, 2014 ~

3. Route Suspension

Route	Details	Date Effective
Narita = Naha(*1)	Suspension of 1 daily round-trip flights	Oct. 26, 2014 ~

(*1)JAL codeshare flights operated by Jetstar Japan on Narita=Naha route are available for customers connecting to/from international flights at Narita airport.

For more information about JAL and Jetstar Japan codeshare flights, please visit: <http://www.jal.co.jp/en/inter/info/gk/>

Additionally, JAL will continue to expand new products and highly-appraised JAL SKY NEXT onto its domestic flights to/from Haneda.

For more details of JAL SKY NEXT, please visit: <http://www.jal.co.jp/en/skynext/>

END

Journalists with media enquiries please contact the press office: jian.yang@jal.com /
Tel: +81-3-5460-3109 / www.jal.com/en/corporate/