

Change of the process for Exchange Rate

Dear Valued Business Partners,

Please be advised that due to result of IATA Composite Meeting, held on October 30-31, 2013, the process for "Exchange Rate" will be changed as follows, effective 01APR15:

Current:

- BSR (Bankers Selling Rate) is different depending on the country (sources, timing for updates, etc.)
- For an example, in USA, the rate published each Tuesday in the Wall Street Journal is applied from Wednesday of the same week up to and including Tuesday of the following week.

New:

- IATA will provide the "IATA Consolidated Exchange Rates" daily (Monday -Friday) as BSR. The rate is effective the following day starting from 0:00 (midnight local time). The same rate is applicable from Saturday of each week up to and including Monday of the following week.

This change should reflect in your GDS system.

Thank you for your attention and support for Japan Airlines.
