

JOINT RELEASEIntroducing an Exclusive Inflight Meal Presented by Japanese Soba Noodles Tsuta

Michelin-starred Ramen - Now offered on JAL International Flights

Tokyo Oct 27, 2017 - Japan Airlines Co., Ltd. (JAL) and 79 Co., Ltd. (operates `Japanese Soba Noodles Tsuta` - the first Michelin-starred ramen shop in Japan), will offer customers a delectable soy sauce flavored ramen menu from November 1, 2017. This exclusive inflight meal will be served on JAL`s International First and Business Class flights departing from Japan to Europe, the USA, and Australia (excluding some routes).

The soy sauce based noodle uses chicken & seafood blended broth to add richness to the taste and truffle oil for fragrance. One of the key ingredients in a ramen is the `chashu` (roasted pork fillet) which will be featured alongside some high quality wheat noodles that will leave a surprisingly light and tasty flavor on your palate.

Please take this opportunity to enjoy this dish on your next flight on Japan Airlines.

■ Offered on JAL First and Business Class (*)

(*) First Class will service this dish on the a la carte menu and Business Class will be served on the Anytime You Wish menu.

- Routes: Flights departing from Japan to Chicago, Dallas Fort Worth, Boston, New York, Los Angeles, San Diego, San Francisco, London, Frankfurt, Helsinki, Paris, Moscow, Sydney and Melbourne
